Mr. Herbert Holly is to take a position as messenger at World's fair grounds, Monday.

The Turkey Tribe will give a banquet at the Marble Heart club, on January 29. All of the Tribe will be there. Come and meet them.

Beloved by All.

Hattie Cross, the loving daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cross, died last week, and was buried last Saturday morning, from Central Baptist church. Rev. George Stevenson delivered a very sympathetic sermon. Hattie was a pupil of the Bannock school. Quite a number of that school's pupils attended the services. All seemed to enter into the grief of the family and friends. Everyone who knew Hattie loved and respected her. May the rest live in peace.

Queen Esther Temple, of the S. M. T., meets the first and third Wednesday in each month at K. of P. hall. Mrs. Ophelia Benton, W. P.; Mrs. Mahalia Macklin, secretary.

The Harper's Married Women's club meets the second Wednesday in each month at different places. The place of meeting will be announced in The Palladium each month. Mrs. Florence Jenkins, president, 2725 Wash street. Mrs. Jennie Harris, secretary, 2739 Wash street.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

Rev. Cole, a strange minister, preached for Rev. Dr. E. C. Cole last Sunday night, 7:30. Her text was from the 6th chapter of the Ephesians and 1st verse. He made many points, and demonstrations, and brought forth many amens from the good sisters.

The Carnation club of the First Baptist church will give a fine dinner on the 27th of this month, at the above church. The proceeds will go to pay on the debt of the church. Sister M. J. Grant, the president, said that this will be the finest dinner the club has ever given.

Rev. E. C. Cole preached a very interesting sermon, last Sunday, 11 a. m., at the First Baptist church, to a very large audience. This kind, loving and Christian gentleman always has many good things to say to his hearers, and if they will only take heed and follow his leadership, it is certain that they would always do right, live right, walk right, and in the end become the most intelligent people on earth.

The four clubs, namely, Pleasant Workers, Ruth, Carnation and Gentlemen, met directly after the morning service, in joint session, for the purpose of closing up the business of the fair that was held at the First Baptist church last December, 21 to 25. The purpose of the meeting was stated, and the report of the secretary, Madame Martie A. Gilree, was read and approved, showing that $215.65 was raised by the members of the fair. In the meeting there was a spirited discussion relative to the immediate use of the money, etc., and it was decided to turn the money over to the church treasury, to be paid out on the main debt, as soon as possible. These are some of those who took part in the discussion: Rev. E. C. Cole, Gilbert Brown, N. P. Hairston, Jessie J. Jackson, J. G. Epps, Rev. Geo. West, Madame M. Sweeney, Mrs. M. J. Grant, A. W. Washington.

ANTIOCH CHURCH NOTES

The B. Y. P. U. officers: President, Mr. Allen Tillman; vice-president, A. Williams; secretary, Miss Ella Williams.

The church gave a pound party, Tuesday evening, the 19th, for a worthy sick lady in their neighborhood. Let us care for the sick and helpless.

Under the leadership of the worthy and able pastor, Rev. F. McKinney, the church is doing nicely. They are holding meeting every night, and inviting sinners to come to Christ; also urging those-to-be Christians to unite with some church and get out of the way of sinners. The public is invited to attend these meetings.

Attorney J. A. Smith was reappointed superintendent of Sunday-school for this year, at the last church meeting, by the church; W. T. Smith, secretary; Geo. McKinney, treasurer. Teachers appointed by the superintendent are: Misses E. Phillips, B. Middleton, L. B. and L. Edwards, A. B. Thomson and Mrs. M. A. Lawrence, Mr. L. H. Patterson and E. Connell.

The Deed of a Brave Little Woman.
On Sunday, Jan. 18, as Mrs. John W. Irving and little daughter, Edna Lee, were returning from church, they were run down by a Transit Company car on the Market street line. The mother motioned the motorman to stop the car, but upon seeing he paid no heed, let go the child's hand to motion him again. In so doing the child got from under her control, the car bore down upon the little one. The mother seeing the peril of her child, made a desperate effort to save the pride of her life. By running beside the terrible death-dealer she managed to hold on to the child and finally succeeded in dragging it from the track, with many bruises about the head and face. Mrs. Irving is now prostrate from the shock. When her friends speak of her as being brave, she simply declares any mother would have done likewise. Mr. and Mrs. Irving and little daughter reside at 512 Montrose avenue.

The Death Angel.

Miss Estrella Hamilton, of East Baton Rouge, La., died on the 6th of January, 1904. She was a most lovely young lady, of not more than 15 years of age. Strange to say she was aware of her nearness to the heavenly land, and as all Christians, she was ready to accompany the death angel. She leaves four sisters and three aunts to mourn her loss. Mrs. Mary Gray, of 2505 Scott avenue, is her aunt, and she is much cast down. Rest be to her ashes and may the God of Heaven console the cast down relatives.

An old man, who was so embarrassed with the goods of this world, did not have time to attend the funeral of his niece. He lives in East Baton Rouge, La. The devil has a claim on his soul. That is if he has a soul.

Pickett's Headache Powders give instant relief. 2601 Lawton avenue.

PRESIDENT THEODORE ROOSEVELT, THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE FOR 1904.

DR. RICHARD BARTHOLDT, Our Good Congressman.

BARTHOLDT-BEIRMAN.

Public Opinion of an Ungrateful Man.

The Palladium warned Mr. Bartholdt a year ago to-day that he was hanging in the balance of political faith. We also notified him that we had buried the hatchet, but left the handle sticking up. The colored people and our friends generally are urging us to continue the fight against the most ungrateful man who ever held office with the aid of our suffrage. Mr. Bartholdt has also played fast and loose with his white brethren. Some of those who first put him in office were the first to come under the ban of Herr Bartholdt's disavowal. It is said that Uncle Joe Cannon and President Roosevelt are not unfamiliar with the doings of the erratic Bartholdt. George Beirman, Bartholdt's brother-in-law, and political jackal (for 'tis said that the jackal carries food to the lion) and dispenser of federal pie in the St. Louis custom house, is said to be having trouble impressing the importance of Bartholdt's desires on the minds of some of the federal heads. When Mr. Ziegenhain ran for mayor, it was arranged and agreed that Bartholdt should come home and act as chairman of the convention, but at the twelfth hour he flunked in his true style because, as he put it, he feared it might injure his chances. This is characteristic of Mr. Bartholdt, and to-day he can not count on a single friend or man who will help him, unless compelled by patronage. For the past six years Mr. Bartholdt has rarely appeared at a public meeting without trying to convey the impression that he was there as the agent of the president, for, as he invariably expressed it, "I have a message from ze president." Instead of assisting President Roosevelt; however, Mr. Bartholdt has used his supposed influence to keep up his shaky fences, and save his own hide; but Bartholdt's hide needs drying, and The Palladium purposes to hang it on the fence of public opinion. Word has gone forth to the brewers that they may expect antagonistic legislation if they insist on putting up large sums of money to keep Bartholdt in congress as their personal representative. The St. Louis brewers can not hope to benefit themselves by trying to keep so distasteful a representative in congress as Bartholdt is to the rank and file of the party, for the people are opposed to a walking "Lager Beer Sign." With his sister-in-law as his private secretary, one brother-in-law in the post office, another (Barney Seldner) in the custom house, and still another to be appointed from his present position in the Third national bank, and countless other relatives, including the previously mentioned Beirman, who by way of general unpopularity and hypocrisy, closely resembles the antiquated Ralph Johnson, of sub-treasury fame, whom 'tis said will soon be decapitated, Bartholdt and his nepotistic inclinations must soon hike away to the neopolis of forgetfulness. The four-flushing member from the Tenth will hardly be able to longer corner the federal pie market.

ORPHEAN DANCING ACADEMY.

New School of Dancing and Deportment.

A new school for the cultivation of the terpsichorean art and deportment is to be opened Friday, Feb. 8, in True Reformers' Hall.

The enterprise is being promoted by a syndicate of gentlemen, who have secured the services of Mr. Jas. W. Grant, the acknowledged leader in all that pertains to social culture, to manage and direct the school for them.

Mr. Grant has been given full control and is expected to make the school an ideal one of the highest rank.

The terpsichorean art in all its correct form and deportment at public and private functions.

Polite and neatly uniformed attendants will receive and care for wraps, preserve order and otherwise serve the patrons without extra charges. A competent caterer will furnish light refreshments at low prices and a full orchestra will furnish music for the dances.

All the most popular and latest dances will be taught and the school is to be up-to-date and first-class in all its appointments.

Getting in Line.

If you wish to get an up-to-date breakfast, dinner and supper, go to Lavery's, 2220 Market street, for they will fill the inner man.

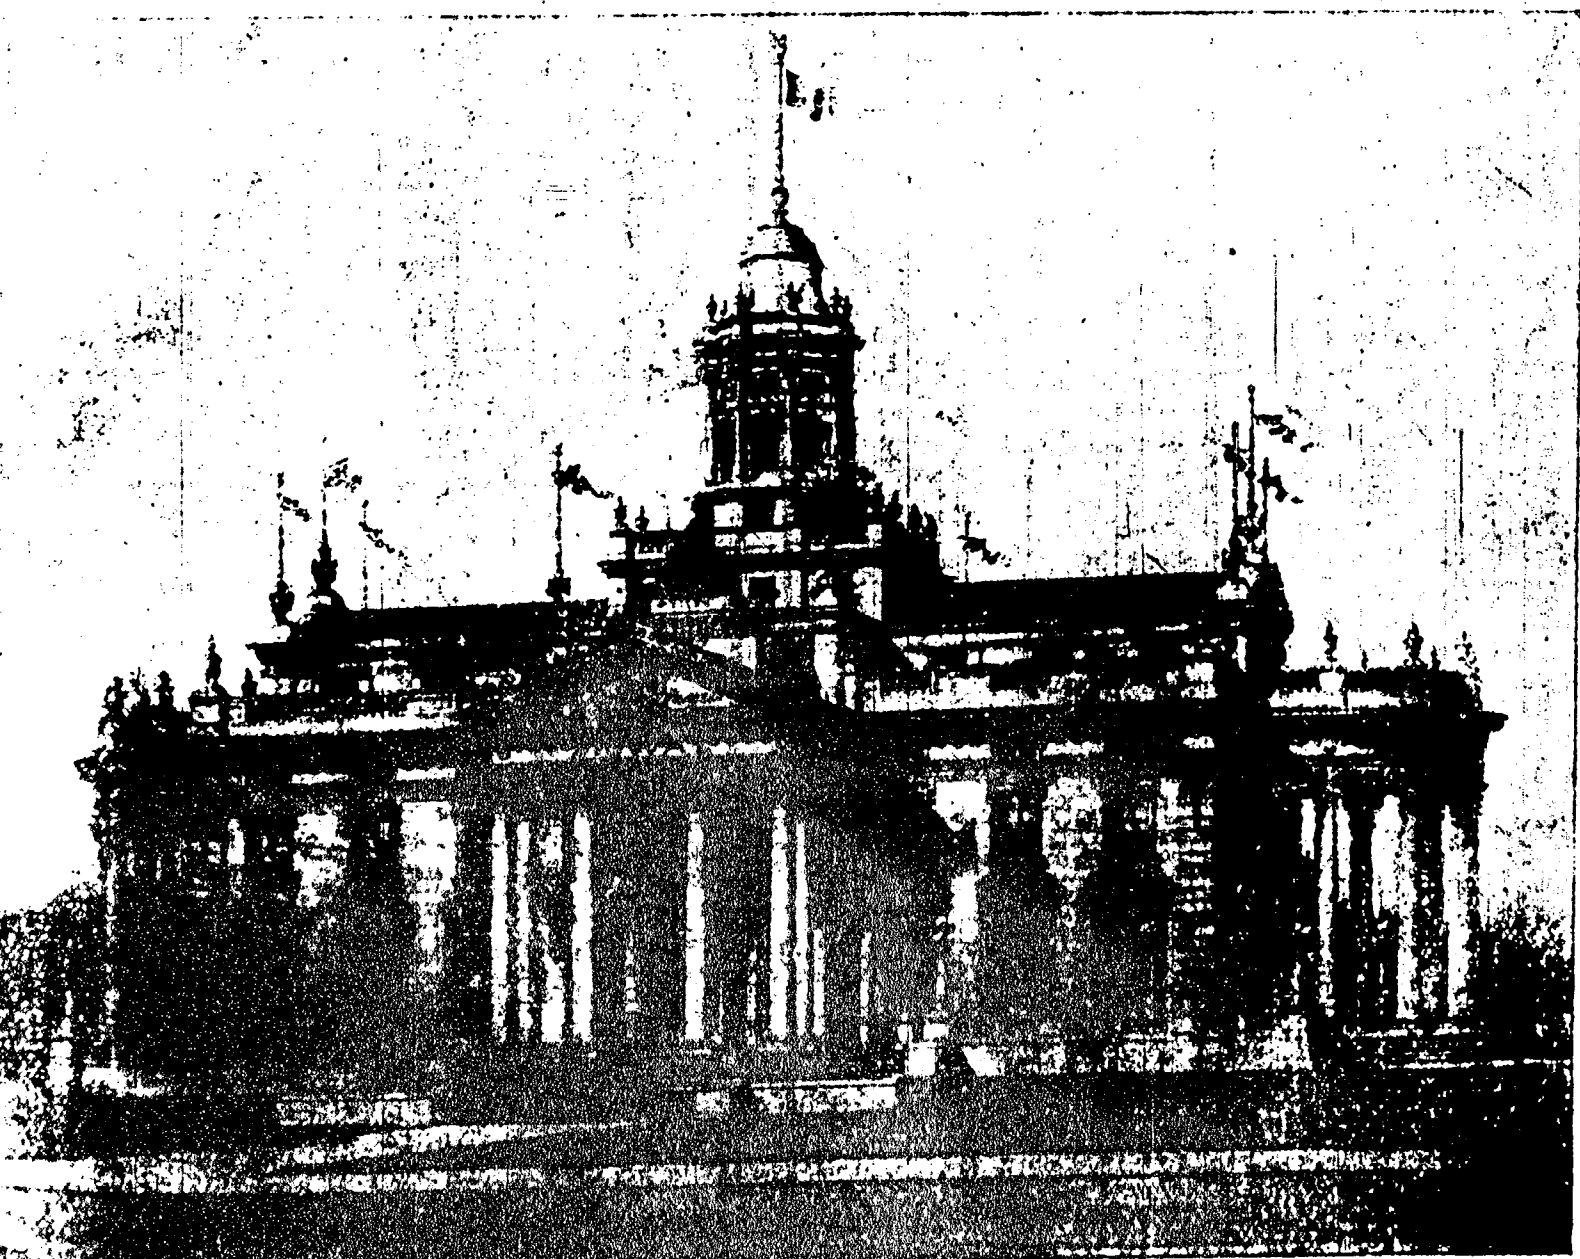

NICELY-FURNISHED rooms for rent, 1552 Gratiot street.

A Great Event.
The reception that was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dening was one long to be remembered by all. As we said last week, it was one of the grandest events that it has been our pleasure to witness. As the two presented themselves, it was a picture. The bride only of a few months looked as innocent as a babe; the husband seemingly as noble as man can appear. We only hope that their future may be strewn with flowers, and the child-wife will be protected by her noble husband, at all times, is our wish.

To Do Detective Work.
A company of colored men will organize a detective agency here in the city in the near future, which promises to rival anything ever witnessed in this country. They will run down criminals who are flocking here from all parts of the country; also people (men and women) who are ranking high in society, and are constantly visiting association or lawdy houses, etc. The company will employ some of the most skillful men and women that can be found in the United States to help them carry out their work. Therefore the public better take due notice and live accordingly.

Why Not Be Honest?
A post office employee, who formerly lived at 2004 ——— avenue, is out of whack with the tailor man. Why not pay? He might find himself out of a job. No woman can hold him any longer.

We wish to call special attention to the undertaker business of Harrison-McKelp, 2743 Wash street. They will supply you with a winter overcoat that will last until doomsday.
